

In the interview with the Justyna Sobczyk - theatre pedagogue, the most important issue was the problem of the theatre education. Justyna outlined the potential of the Theater Village. We can meet here artists who can have an influence on the young creators. In the consequence of these actions Węgałty could be the place where we meet with attentive audience-people that feel a strong need to experience the art.