

„More than honey“ by Markus Imhoof, shows the connection between human and nature, and his negative influence on natural harmony. Many factors, responsible for mass extinction of bees, are the result of human wasteful policy. It is moving documentary film about symbiosis and distraction appearing coincidentally.