

This performance, consists of three different parts – different by its form, dynamics and character – seems to be a bit chaotic. It is hard to remember the sequences of scenes and general sense of the rivers of words telling by the actresses. But probably logically coherent, linear way of narration is not possible for realization in case of the matters undertaken by the Realistyczny Theatre.